

Dear Kordell,

I just checked the responses from our survey monkey evals, and thus far, 75% of respondents found you to be EXCELLENT!

I'm serious about bringing you back. And I'm sure I will be competing with other members for your schedule...people were wildly impressed. It's because attendees usually expect keynotes to be either entertaining or practical. And you did both -- phenomenally well, I might add.

What's more is that you are easy to work with and a delight in person!

Thank you for successfully selling me on engaging you, because you backed all of your promises up with an experience that none will soon forget!!

Penny
